Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

Certain of the information set forth herein, including operating revenues, adjusted EBITDA, operating adjusted EBITDA, and investment adjusted EBITDA, may be considered non-GAAP financial measures. B. Riley Financial believes this information is useful to investors because it provides a basis for measuring the Company's available capital resources, the operating performance of its business and its revenues and cash flow, (i) excluding in the case of operating revenues, trading income (loss) and fair value adjustments on loans, (ii) excluding in the case of adjusted EBITDA, net interest expense, provisions for or benefit from income taxes, depreciation, amortization, fair value adjustment, restructuring charge, gain on extinguishment of loans, impairment of trade names, stock-based compensation and transaction and other expenses, (iii) excluding in the case of operating adjusted EBITDA, aforementioned adjustments for adjusted EBITDA, as well as trading income (loss) and fair value adjustments on loans, realized and unrealized gains (losses) on investments, and other investment related expenses, and (iv) in the case of investment adjusted EBITDA this includes trading income (loss) and fair value adjustments on loans and realized and unrealized gains (losses) on investments, net of other investment related expenses, that would normally be included in the most directly comparable measures calculated and presented in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP"). In the Capital Markets segment, non-GAAP measures also include operating adjusted EBITDA, FI Spread, and CEF income, which is comprised of operating adjusted EBITDA plus revenue and expenses from Fixed Income and Committed Equity Facilities (CEF). In addition, the Company's management uses these non-GAAP financial measures along with the most directly comparable GAAP financial measures in evaluating the Company's operating performance, capital resources and cash flow. Non-GAAP financial measures should not be considered in isolation from, or as a substitute for, financial information presented in compliance with GAAP, and non-financial measures as reported by the Company may not be comparable to similarly titled amounts reported by other companies. Reconciliation of non-GAAP measures included herein to their most directly comparable GAAP measures can be found in the appendices to this presentation and on B. Our first non-financial services take-private –United Online in 2016– began with the thesis of buying highly cash flow generative, predictable revenue at a low multiple to complement other more episodic business lines. Our communications vertical has expanded through four additional acquisitions, generating significant cash flow on limited capital investment

Brands

Cash flow generative assets purchased at low multiples with potential upside on continued increases in the value of the IP

Targus

Acquired in 2022 with the view that its through-cycle stability, market position, and strong cash flow characteristics supplement B. Riley's cash-generating communications and brand investments

BRANDS

Brands Overview

- Our operating partner, Bluestar Alliance, licenses the use of these brands to a wide base of apparel manufacturers, each of whom focuses on a particular category of goods and pays a royalty based on their wholesale revenue. The licensees agree to multi-year contracts and pay a guaranteed minimum royalty (“GMR”) to hold the right to their segment.
- Operating expenses for this unit are very low and often > 80% of the royalty income flows to EBITDA for distribution to shareholders

PRINCIPAL INVESTING

Principal Investing Strategy

- B. Riley Principal Investments invests actively across the public and private equity and credit markets
- The strategy is multifold but is best characterized as traditional merchant banking in partnership with B. Riley Securities
- Each deal is unique, and can take the form of backstopped underwritings, bridge loans, long term direct loans, anchor orders, minority participation, and starter positions to facilitate take-privates
- Holding periods for public equity positions can range from short- to long-term. For multi-year positions, BRPI often takes board seats and works collaboratively with management.
- Where appropriate, BRPI works closely with the entire BRF platform to assist all its portfolio companies
- At any given time, the public and private portfolio consists of dozens of names
 - This portfolio is dynamic but currently has the exposures laid out in the accompanying chart
 - The public portfolio is marked daily and the private portfolio is marked through a leading third-party valuation service
 - B. Riley sees substantial upside across its entire portfolio and expects zero credit impairment while underwriting attractive IRRs across each single name
- The investment portfolio is underwritten to be turned over every 3 years, providing ample liquidity to BRF alongside the cash flow generation of our operating businesses

Public Equity Investments

After leading a 2020 de-SPAC as the sponsor, underwriter, and PIPE anchor order, B. Riley maintains an 11% ownership stake and a board seat. BRS has served as banker across multiple capital markets transactions. The company is valued at ~5x TEV/EBITDA⁽¹⁾, for a cash flow generative organic and inorganic growth vehicle.

After 5 years of involvement across the capital structure, BRPI currently owns ~30% of the equity. BRF President Kenny Young serves as the company's CEO, and BRS has served as placement agent for multiple rounds of bond and equity offerings. We believe the business trades at a trough valuation, with upside coming from free cash flow generation at the legacy assets and a more nascent technology that we believe is on the cusp of outsized revenue generation.

BRS led the company's IPO in 2021, after which BRF commenced a tender offer for company shares. BRPI now owns just under 10% of the equity, which is a strategic asset in the cash flow generative free-to-play gaming ecosystem. Shares trades at an unlevered ~45% free cash flow yield and ~2x TEV/EBITDA⁽²⁾.

Cash flowing businesses held within a public vehicle that has significant tax assets. See case study.

Private Equity Investments

See section 11

As part of B. Riley's brand partnership with BlueStar Group, BRPI purchased ~40% of Hurley and Justice in two separate transactions in 2020 and 2021. The brands have returned ~90% of invested capital, with LTM distributions of 30% yield to cost. EBITDA and distributions are forecasted to grow in the business plan.

Oil & Gas

BRPI made two private investments opportunistically during the COVID oil crash, which we expect to monetize over the coming years

B. Riley underwrote a broadly syndicated offering of SNCR equity and baby bonds and invested in a $75MM preferred equity instrument as part of a holistic refinancing of the company's capital structure in 2021. B. Riley maintains 14% ownership, $60.8MM⁽²⁾ of preferred equity paying 14% interest, and a board seat. The company is valued at ~5x TEV/EBITDA⁽³⁾ and has guided to organic topline growth, substantial margin expansion, and positive cash flow generation to equity following the divestiture of non-core business lines in October. B. Riley expects a further $25MM paydown in 1H24.

Other

Consists of several smaller positions that will be monetized in the medium term

Credit Investments

Vintage
Vintage and Brian Kahn has been a profitable relationship for the firm, most notably via the original FRG transactions and the Badcock Receivables portfolio (see both case studies for detail). The $201MM secured Vintage loan bears PIK interest of 12% and matures in 2027. The vast majority of the collateral are shares of FRG.

Receivables
Our receivables portfolio is comprised of 3 separate transactions, 2 of which are outlined in the Badcock Receivables Case Study. Gross IRRs in the portfolio have been 25%+ and we expect the portfolio to be fully monetized within the next 18 months.

HY Bonds / Pref
Mostly a portfolio of stressed high-yield credit that we expect to provide $25MM+ of future P&L plus coupons

Exela investment has generated 30%+ IRRs since inception. Two-thirds of this position is comprised of asset-backed loans with low probability of default. One-third of our exposure is marked at a -20% haircut to publicly traded securities on a look-through basis.

Expected to emerge from bankruptcy in Jan 2024. B. Riley's sub debt is marked at $42MM vs. expected equity value post-emergence of $66MM. Despite the default, at current equity prices, B. Riley will make money on this loan.

Top of capital structure and well covered on asset value basis

Credit Portfolio Composition

Since 2019, B. Riley has made 53 total loans. 38 (69%) have been paid back with a weighted average IRR of 12.7%. 15 loans remain outstanding with the notable examples outlined here.

CONCLUSION

History of Successful Take-Privates

B. Riley will sometimes take a strategic position underwritten by a willingness to own the entire company. We believe we have a unique skill set for navigating the complexities of public take-privates. We have made multiple take-private offers over the years, including the below successfully completed transactions.

B. Riley Financial was created by a 2014 reverse merger with the modern day Great American Liquidation and Appraisal businesses. The original holding company owned the legacy broker dealer business B. Riley & Co. plus the Great American assets. The combined company at the time had ~250 employees.

B. Riley acquired FBR & Co. in a $160MM 2017 stock-for-stock transaction to create a market-leading small cap focused investment bank and broker dealer

B. Riley acquired publicly listed United Online in 2016 for enterprise value of $43MM to create its telecommunications platform which is further outlined in the communications section of the presentation

B. Riley acquired publicly listed magicJack in 2018 for enterprise value of $89MM to further bolster its telecommunications platform

B. Riley completed the acquisition of National Holdings Corp. in 2021 which became a wholly owned subsidiary of B. Riley Financial and an affiliate of B. Riley Wealth Management. The transaction created a national wealth management platform that currently has $24B in AUM and 400+ financial advisors.

B. Riley led the August 2023 ~$2.8B TEV take-private of Franchise Group as the lead financing partner

Description

- bebe stores inc. (“bebe”) is publicly traded with primary assets consisting of 50% interest in the licensing rights of the bebe brand, 30% interest in the licensing rights of the Brookstone brand, and 100% interest in 64 Buddy’s Home Furnishings (“BHF”) franchises.
- bebe holds significant tax assets including over $300MM of Federal and State Net Operating Losses (“NOL”).

Investment Thesis

- Various B. Riley divisions restructured bebe in 2017 and avoided a bankruptcy by selling non-core assets, liquidating 142 retail locations, providing a $35MM bridge loan, and selling a 50% stake in the bebe brand to Bluestar Alliance to operate the brand as a licensing model.
- The new corporate platform became a platform to aggregate high FCF targets and drive a dividend boosted by an intact NOL.

Platform Growth

- In 2017 approximately half of the bridge loan was repaid using proceeds from the restructuring. In January 2018 B. Riley converted the remaining $17MM of bridge loan into equity at $6/share.
- In October 2018, bebe purchased a 29% interest in Brookstone for $20.6MM, a deal sourced by B. Riley.
- In November 2020, bebe purchased 47 BHF locations from Franchise Group. B. Riley sourced the deal and helped fund $7.5MM of the purchase price via a 1.5MM primary share purchase at $5.00/share.
- In 2021 and 2022, bebe opportunistically purchased additional BHF locations from Franchise Group and from other franchisees.
- In October 2023, B. Riley purchased 3.7MM shares from Founder and CEO Manny Mashouf in a block trade for $5.00 per share.

Investment Highlights

- Since investment, bebe’s cost structure has improved through corporate cost-sharing arrangements and down-listing the stock to OTC.
- bebe’s brand licensing businesses have generated approximately $11MM per year in cash flow to bebe (before corporate expenses) over the past three years. These royalties are historically stable and supported by contractually-obligated minimum payments from licensees.
- The BHF segment performed exceptionally well in 2021 but suffered during the following roll-off of stimulus funds and higher inflation in 2022 and 2023. bebe continues to focus on operations with a target of $6MM normalized EBITDA before corporate expenses.

Case Study: Badcock Receivables

- In November 2021, Franchise Group purchased W.S. Badcock Corp (“Badcock”)
- This transaction resulted in B. Riley having the opportunity to purchase the entire portfolio of Badcock’s receivables at an attractive price
- Badcock’s receivables portfolio at the time totaled $534.1MM of unsecured consumer receivables, comprising $485MM in revolving credit, $45MM in equal payment plans, and $5MM in late fees
 - These receivables incur finance, credit insurance, and other charges, which on an annualized basis yield ~22% of the portfolio balance.
- B. Riley purchased the $534.1MM of receivables for $400MM (~75% of face value)
 - B. Riley recycled cash flow from the portfolio to purchase an additional $148.1MM in face value of newly originated receivables for $131.0MM (~88% of face value)
- As of November 30, 2023, the portfolio has returned $458MM of cash vs. $400MM of capital deployed, and we expect a total IRR of 26.2%

- Subsequent to the initial purchase, and armed with the knowledge of the owned portfolio, B. Riley purchased an additional $448.1MM of receivables for $377.4MM (~84% of face value) in four transactions from Q4 2022 - Q1 2023. Given the performance of the first portfolio, B. Riley was able to finance the vast majority of this transaction on a non-recourse basis.
- This leveraged receivable pool was sold back to FRG in Q3 2023 as part of FRG’s broader take-private; prior to the sale, this pool had returned $232MM, primarily used to reduce debt with a small equity return of capital.
 - At the time of sale, the ultimate expected levered IRR was over 50%
- B. Riley now holds a $41.9MM note payable⁽¹⁾ with terms intended to mirror the return that B. Riley would have received from the portfolio had the sale not occurred
