- The workshops are designed to help researchers overcome challenges and streamline their research, providing valuable insights and tips. Each virtual workshop will be followed by an interactive roundtable with experts and guest speakers.
- The awards program is offering researchers access to $50,000 in funding to pursue high-value research. This program is a testament to our commitment to supporting the research community and promoting groundbreaking discoveries.
- To show appreciation for the hard work and dedication of researchers, we will also be hosting various promotions and giveaways throughout the week. These promotions will not only be engaging but will also recognize the amazing work of the research community.

"We are thrilled to celebrate our 25th anniversary during our annual GENEWIZ Week event," said Ginger Zhou, Senior Vice President & General Manager – GENEWIZ Multiomics and Synthesis Solutions. "Our team is committed to providing researchers with the tools and support they need to make significant scientific discoveries, and we are excited to help the research community create a healthier world."

GENEWIZ Week is a must-attend event for researchers looking to stay at the forefront of genomics research. For more information and to participate in the weeklong event full of learning, networking, and celebration, please visit the GENEWIZ Week event page.
