

WEYERHAEUSER TAX TREATMENT OF DIVIDEND DISTRIBUTIONS MADE IN 2018

For shareholders of Weyerhaeuser Company (NYSE: WY), the 2018 dividend distributions totaling $1.32 per share on the Common Stock CUSIP 96216610 traded under the symbol WY are classified for income tax purposes as Capital Gain Distributions which are treated as long-term capital gain. The common share dividends were paid quarterly as follows: $0.32 on March 23, 2018; $0.32 on June 22, 2018; $0.34 on September 28, 2018; and $0.34 on December 21, 2018.

The recently enacted Tax Cuts and Jobs Act eliminated the corporate alternative minimum tax adjustment to shareholders beginning with the 2018 tax year. Because the company's dividend distributions are characterized as capital gains, they are not eligible for the 20% qualified business income deduction (Section 199A deduction) included in the Act.

Shareholders are encouraged to consult their tax advisor to determine the specific effect these distributions may have on their individual tax situation.

Our common stock trades on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol WY. Learn more at <http://investor.weyerhaeuser.com/>.